CHRONOLOGY OF EVENTS BEFORE ACHMEA

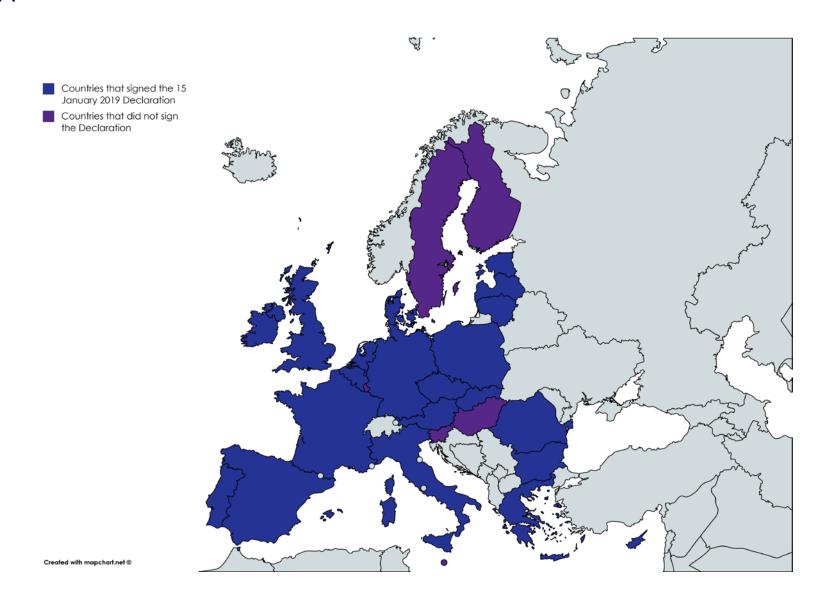

THE ACHMEA DECISION

Court of Justice of the European Union, Slovak Republic v. Achmea B. V. (Case C-284/16), 6 March 2018

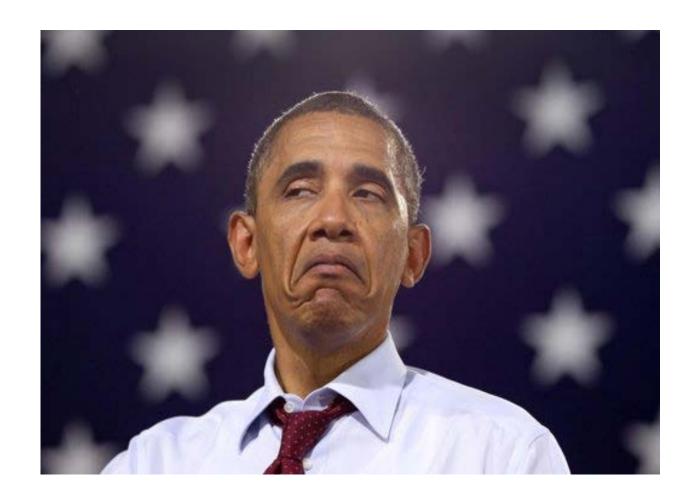

- ◆ Ad hoc tribunal constituted under the UNCITRAL Rules, seated in Frankfurt
- ◆ Slovakia ordered to pay EUR 22.1 million of damages to Achmea
- ◆ Challenge of the award before the German Courts: the Tribunal lacked jurisdiction because Article 8 of the BIT was incompatible with EU law, specifically articles 18, 267 and 344 of the TFEU
- ◆ German Federal Court of Justice referred questions to CJEU for preliminary ruling
- ★ AG Wathelet concluded that neither intra-EU BITs nor the ISDS clauses contained therein were in breach of EU law
- ★ The CJEU drastically departed from Wathelet's opinion, ruling that the arbitration clause in the BIT is not compatible with EU law

EU FDI SCREENING REGULATION

Regulation (EU) 2019/452 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 19 March 2019 establishing a framework for the screening of foreign direct investments into the Union

- Principles
- A cooperation and information-sharing mechanism
- Final decision to approve or block a foreign investment with the Member State
- Member States not required to set up their own screening mechanisms
- Provides legal certainty for Member States with such mechanisms
- Creates the first system to discuss inbound European M&A at EU-level

- Application
- Regulation applies from 11 October 2020, and applies to FDIs completed from 10 April 2019
- Member States shall
 - apply timeframes under their screening mechanisms.
 - notify the Commission of their existing mechanisms by 10
 May 2019
 - Notify the Commission of any newly adopted screening mechanism or any amendment to an existing screening mechanism within 30 days of entry into force.
 - No later than 3 months after having received the notifications, the Commission shall make publicly available a list of Member States' screening mechanisms and keep that list up to date.

SCOPE OF EU FDI SCREENING REGULATION

Article 4

Factors that may be taken into consideration by Member States or the Commission

- 1. In determining whether a foreign direct investment is likely to affect security or public order, Member States and the Commission may consider its potential effects on, inter alia:
- (a) critical infrastructure, whether physical or virtual, including energy, transport, water, health, communications, media, data processing or storage, aerospace, defence, electoral or financial infrastructure, and sensitive facilities, as well as land and real estate crucial for the use of such infrastructure;
- (b) critical technologies and dual use items as defined in point 1 of Article 2 of Council Regulation (EC) No 428/2009 (¹⁵), including artificial intelligence, robotics, semiconductors, cybersecurity, aerospace, defence, energy storage, quantum and nuclear technologies as well as nanotechnologies and biotechnologies;
- (c) supply of critical inputs, including energy or raw materials, as well as food security;
- (d) access to sensitive information, including personal data, or the ability to control such information; or
- (e) the freedom and pluralism of the media.
- 2. In determining whether a foreign direct investment is likely to affect security or public order, Member States and the Commission may also take into account, in particular:
- (a) whether the foreign investor is directly or indirectly controlled by the government, including state bodies or armed forces, of a third country, including through ownership structure or significant funding;
- (b) whether the foreign investor has already been involved in activities affecting security or public order in a Member State; or
- (c) whether there is a serious risk that the foreign investor engages in illegal or criminal activities.
