

Former CPR President Noah Hanft, Esq. Joins FedArb

November 22, 2019 – FedArb is thrilled to announce that Noah Hanft, Esq. has joined its panel and will be based in New York. He will specialize in resolving antitrust, civil rights, construction, contracts, employment/labor, insurance/reinsurance, intellectual property, real estate and securities disputes.

Mr. Hanft is the former president and CEO of the International Institute for Conflict Prevention and Resolution (CPR). Mr. Hanft spent most of his professional career at MasterCard Worldwide in a variety of legal and business roles. Between 2001 and 2014, he was general counsel and chief franchise officer for MasterCard, where he was responsible for overseeing legal and regulatory affairs, public policy and compliance.

He serves as both an arbitrator and mediator and consults with companies on dispute resolution and litigation settlement strategy.

Mr. Hanft earned his LL.M. from New York University School of Law, his J.D. from Brooklyn Law School and his B.A. from American University.

About FedArb

For more than a decade, FedArb's panel of more than 50 former Article III federal judges and more than 30 distinguished neutrals have successfully mediated and arbitrated hundreds of complex civil cases, typically achieving results more efficiently and cost effectively than through litigation. FedArb's high profile federal judges also work with law firms on internal investigations and oversee mock trials. FedArb provides around-the-clock administrative services and honor the parties' deadlines, saving clients time and money.